a word about our wine prices...

“the wines in this book come from many countries and are made from many different grapes, some classic, some unusual. largely, these wines come from small, family-owned wineries and reflect a true sense of place. every wine is made to the highest standards and i’m proud of each and every bottle we carry. learning about wine is a journey of discovery that i am thrilled to assist eager adventurers on but trying something new can be daunting when it comes with a large price tag. the traditional restaurant model of marking up wines in the extreme is, in my view, outdated and limiting to our guests. i am committed not only to offering wines of exceptional quality but to keeping all of them at honest, fair prices. experience something new with us tonight and if you have any questions, comments or curiosities, i would love to chat with you!”

-Rick Stiles, sommelier
